

I do not think that the state of NJ should hold standards higher than the federal do not call list. Anything more than the federal guidelines seems very innapropriate and unjust. Years ago our country was constructed in a way that no authority would become to great so that we could live in peace under the balances of power. It seems wrong and unusual that NJ should have tougher laws than the federal government. Let freedom ring...literally!